PALOMINO

COMPONENTONE'S NEXT-GENERATION AJAX CONTROLS

WHY PALOMINO?

BUILD THE MOST POWERFUL WEB APPS

Palomino is the power of Microsoft's ASP.NET AJAX extended and enhanced by our rich control architecture. Each control is optimized for its purpose in functionality, design, and interaction. With Palomino you can turn a normal website into a modern Web app with rich themes, blazing performance, and interactive animations.

DESIGN RICH UI'S

Every control in Palomino looks just as good as it performs. You can style your entire Web app in minutes with our FormDecorator control and built-in Visual Styles. We even have a GUI editor (Foxy Visual Style Designer) to help you build custom themes without writing a single line of CSS. Take your apps from boring to brilliant with Palomino's rich styling architecture.

HAVE FUN CODING

Our ASP.NET controls are built by Web Developers for Web Developers. We have taken all the basic and boring tasks out of UI development so you can focus on writing the code you love. We have fun using our controls and know you will too. Once you drop our controls in your site, you'll see how easy it is to enhance your performance, style, and functionality without writing tons of tedious code.

BEST UX PACKED INSIDE

Ever wonder why people love using websites like Netflix and Facebook? The answer is User experience (UX). All of our Palomino controls have a variety of baked-in animation effects. By setting a single property on our controls, your end users can enjoy a better UX with the smooth effects that take your AJAX interaction beyond Web 2.0.

USE BLEEDING-EDGE TECHNOLOGY

Palomino is beyond cutting-edge, it's bleeding edge. We are constantly staying ahead of the curve so you get the latest and greatest technology in our controls. Add Palomino controls to your website and you will be getting AJAX interaction, CSS themes, easing animations, JSON serialization, semantic XHTML, and standards compliance.

GET THE CONTROLS YOU NEED

With a suite of over 35 controls, all built on quality, you are sure to get the control you need and the control you trust. Our commitment is to you, the developer. Take on the project you once thought impossible or the UI you once thought couldn't be built. We want you to be unstoppable as a developer and strive to give you the quality of controls you need to accomplish anything.

IT'S EXTENSIBLE

We are all about performance, and taking advantage of our client-side object model is a great way of easily enhancing your site. If you are one of the many developers moving to client-side (JavaScript) development then you will love to use our controls. Palomino controls all offer full functionality including, properties, functions, and events in JavaScript exactly as they do in C#. You will be able to write the same code in either environment—client/server—and save time by doing so. Palomino controls also make it very easy to transition code from the server to the client. We can help you add AJAX performance to your web app without rewriting any code or even learning JavaScript.

LONG HISTORY OF EXCELLENCE

With our new Palomino ASP.NET AJAX controls, we have created the best Web development studio in the market. Many big companies (Verizon, Cisco, Siemens, Chevron, GSK) have moved to our new cutting-edge controls and choosing us over the competition. Long recognized for the first control for ActiveX and the best grids in WinForms, we are now becoming known as the most solid performing studio for AJAX controls.

THRIVE IN A CONNECTED COMMUNITY

Our products come with much more than just technology. They come with a community filled with people as passionate as you about Web development. When you use our AJAX controls, you have the support of thousands of developers around the world. Not only will you be connecting with peers, but you will have direct connection with our specialized support team and have access to in-depth online resources. Come join our community and connect with peers and industry experts.